One Woman's Constancy.

Last week we told of the happy meeting of a Confederate, whom we knew, and a Federal veteran, at Gettysburg, after a lapse of fifty years. The former was wounded in the great battle and the latter in response to his entreaties gave him a drink of water as he lay burning with thirst. They did not know each other and had never met since the incident, which was firmly impressed on the memory of each. It was a remarkable meeting and the Confederate was overjoyed at finding the man who had proved such a good Samaritan to him. That was one of the pleasant incidents of the reunion of the blue and gray. Here is another which has not so gratifying in results as the first:

In 1863 John Wolf and Emma Mahay were engaged to be married, when John enlisted to fight for the Union. For a time his letters came with gratifying regularity and were all that his sweetheart could ask, while she waited in full expectation of the happy reunion after the cruel war had ended. But man's inconstancy and woman's faithfulness are proverbial! She has been waiting ever since, for John, instead of coming home and claiming his bride, settled in the distant State of New Jersey and kept his whereabouts unknown to her. As luck would have it, however, John's name appeared in the list of veterans who celebrated at Gettysburg, and fell on Miss Emma's longing eyes. Her search was at last rewarded, when upon investigation she found that it was really her former John and that he was married, rich and well to do, besides being the possessor of a number of stalwart boys and bouncing girls.

Fifty years is a long time to wait and remain true to one's first love, but Miss Emma, now at the age of sixty-seven, says her heart and life were so tied up in love for the recreant soldier that she discouraged all attentions from other men and sat as a vestal virgin for half a century waiting for him who came not.

It's a sad story, mates, but the worst is yet to come, for John, at least. Miss Emma has brought suit for breach of promise against the man for whom she waited, the result of which will be watched with interest.

Two score years and ten has Miss Emma patiently waited, and then to be disappointed. However, if love's desire can be satisfied with lucre, her constancy certainly deserves to be rewarded. John should be made to pay a good round sum for wrecking the hopes of one of the most constant of women, whose life trials have been recorded.

She can't get John, but she can get his money, if the jury will look at it in that way.—W. P. Walton in Lexington Herald.

The Best Pain Killer.

Rueklen's Arnica Salve when applied to a cut, bruise, sprain, burn or scald, or other injury of the skin will immediately remove all pain. E. E. Chamberlain of Clinton, Me., says:—"It robes cuts and other injuries of their terror. As a healing remedy its equal don't exist." Will do good for you. Only 25¢ at all druggists.

Plenty of Quail.

Local sportsmen are wearing the "smile that won't come off" and every day the smile keeps widening, as reports keep coming in from all sections of the State about the exceptionally large crop of quail this year. It is said by those who have been out in the "hunting grounds" that the call of "bob white" can be heard on every side and that the supply of game this season is great. The reason is said to be the continued hot dry weather which has been making the people all over the State hunt for the shady places. The season for quail opens November 1.—Danville Messenger.

Dr. Simmons' Tribute to Dr. Charles Rice.

Dr. Charles D. Rice former City Food and Health Inspector, who recently resigned, will leave Lexington Wednesday for Ames, Iowa.

Dr. Rice has accepted a chair in the State University of Iowa, the college from which he graduated. In speaking of the departure of Dr. Rice and of his service to the city, Dr. N. R. Simmons, City Health officer, said: "I am sorry to see Dr. Rice leave my office. He proved himself invaluable to the city and much credit is due him for the standard of milk, the citizens of Lexington are now enjoying."

Dr. Simmons said the successor for Dr. Rice has not been decided upon.—Lexington Tribune.

Dr. Rice is a Madison county boy, a student of Old Central University and a graduate of Georgetown College in general scientific work and a graduate of Iowa State College in veterinary science and his friends are very proud of Dr. Simmons' tribute to him.

We receive every morning a full line of green vegetables and would be glad to supply your wants. Phone 72 & 144 Covington Thorpe Co. 57-1f.

A Fox's Tragedy.

On a large estate in New York some time ago, a fox was found to be destroying poultry. The time of the raids and their boldness were proof enough that the fox must be a female with young. Poisoned meat was prepared for her, and at once the raids ceased. A few days later one of the workmen on the estate came upon the den of a fox, at the mouth of which lay dead a whole litter of young ones. They had been poisoned. The mother had not eaten the poisoned food herself, but had carried it home to her little ones. They must have died in the burrow, for it was evident from the signs that she had dragged them out in the fresh air to revive them, and deposited them gently on the sand in front of the hole. Then in her perplexity she had brought various tidbits of mouse and bird and rabbit and placed them at their noses to tempt them to wake up out of their strange sleep and eat, as hungry children should eat. Who knows how long she watched beside the still forms, and whether emotions were? She must have left the neighborhood soon after, however, for none has seen her since anywhere about the estate.

VALLEY VIEW.

The first month of Miller School, near Valley View, taught by Miss Myrtle Dalton, was completed last Friday. Fifty-seven pupils have been enrolled. Those on the roll of honor for the month are Price Tudor, Ida B. Howard, Naomie Gilbert.

The storm which raged throughout the county Friday afternoon did considerable damage in the Valley View neighborhood. A valuable mule and horse belonging to Mrs. Lelia Hill, were killed by lightning. Tobacco and corn washed and otherwise damaged

Seaside Sounds.

Ma likes to listen to the surf
In songs devoid of words;
Sis likes to stroll across the turf
And listen to the birds.
Dad likes to lounge in the cafe,
Enchanted, as it were,
And listen to the tunes they play
On the cash register.

When in need of blacksmithing in any of its branches, Farming Implements, Buggies, Carriages, Wagons, Rubber tires &c, get prices from R. E. Miller, Union City, Ky.

A Pair of Good Ones.

A record litter of pigs from a single sow was made by a porker owned by O. P. Huffman, the local butcher, on Sunday. His sow bore a litter of 22 pigs, 17 of which are living and doing nicely. The other five died soon after birth. Nearly all were of uniform size and well proportioned. This is said to be a record litter.—Mm. Merriman, the produce man of Moreland, heard a very peculiar noise coming from a case of eggs bought in Casey County last week. On investigation, he found that five had hatched chickens. They were put in a box and are being raised by hand. The I. J. man saw the chicks and the story is well vouched for. The weather has been hot enough almost to fry eggs, let alone to hatch them.—Stanford Interior Journal.

Reduction in Post Rates.

Postmaster Burleson has announced that upon August 15 there will become effective a partial reconstruction of the parcel post system, which will be accompanied by a material reduction of the rates now in effect. The changes will consist of the raising of the present weight limit, which is now eleven pounds to a maximum of 20 pounds, the consolidation of the first and second zones into a new second zone, a reduction of the rates in the first and second zones ranging from one fifth to one-third of the present rates, and the substitution of a convenient rate chart to replace the cumbersome parcel post map now in use for determining the location of various points and the rate thereto. No other zones save those mentioned will be affected by the proposed change.

Killing and Beating.

McCreary county is making a reputation for lawlessness. Charles West shot and killed Homer Powell after Powell shot him at Stearns Saturday afternoon. H. L. Foster also shot and killed C. Y. Hamm at the same time and place.

D. E. McQuery was beaten with brass knucks, rocks, etc, by M. Stephens a clerk of the Stearns Company, just west of Stearns, last Sunday morning. Two stitches were required in one cut in his scalp and one in another, while there were about a dozen lesser wounds about his face and head. Stephens was fined $10.

Suffered Eczema Fifty Years—Now Well.

Seems a long time to endure awful burning, itching, smarting, skin-disease known as "tetter"—another name for Eczema. Seems good to realize, also, that Dr. Hobson's Eczema Ointment has proven a perfect cure.

Mrs. D. L. Kenney writes:—"I cannot sufficiently express my thanks to you for your Dr. Hobson's Eczema Ointment. It has cured my tetter, which has troubled me for over fifty years." All druggist, or by mail, 50c. Pfleider Chemical Co., St. Louis, Mo., Philadelphia, Pa.

AUGUST 8, 1913

DURING the canvass of Kentucky last fall Capt. John T. Vance, Jr., of Lexington, was one of the most ardent advocates of the claims of Woodrow Wilson and Henry S. Breckinridge, now Assistant Secretary of War, went all over the State making friends for the man from New Jersey, and they were in a large measure responsible for the sentiment aroused in his behalf. If a man ever needed to be rewarded, it is he and his friends are glad to know that he will likely be appointed Deputy Reserve General of Customs at Santo Domingo. Senator James, Gov. McCrory and other prominent Kentuckians have endorsed him. The salary is $6,000 a year.

MR. AND MRS. GEO. A. BARNETT, of East Orange, N. J., have just celebrated the golden anniversary of their marriage and the remarkable statement is made by both of them that they have never had a cross word in the fifty years they have lived together. This story may be taken in by the marines. We old sailors on the matrimonial sea will not be fooled by it. Such a life would be too monotonous, besides. A couple of an gels couldn't agree that long. Variety is the spice of life. A little quarrel and then, with a kiss and a make-up, is better than the monotony of a calm married life.

COMMISSIONER LAND and Chief of Police Reagan are doing all they can to stop the Sunday sale of liquor in Lexington, but when the saloon keepers are caught dead to rights, juries let them off or impose slight fines and short suspensions. When men violate the terms of their license there should be no compromise. Their license should be taken from them and they should never be permitted to secure one.

JUDGE FRANK BULLOCK, who was beaten by a Republican for county judge of Fayette after an uninterrupted tenure of 18 years, "came back" again on Saturday when he was renominated for the same office by nearly a thousand more votes than his two opponents received together. Judge Geo. B. Kincaid, who fought him hardest, came out a very poor third. Hogan Yancey, the noted ball player, was nominated for county attorney over a field of four, and Matt Savage Walton won the prize for the Legislature over Peter G. Powell. It was the quietest election ever held in Fayette county.

FIVE members of the West Virginia Legislature, who wanted to supplement their salaries to meet the high cost of living, doubtless wish they had tried to live on less. Five of them were sentenced for bribery in connection with the election of a U. S. Senator, three being given six years, two five and a half and one five years, and in addition they are disqualified for life from holding public office, or any of trust. The bribeurs ought to get their dose, but they, it seems, escape, while their victims suffer. They should receive the greater condemnation and the most stinging punishment.

THE SECRETARY OF LABOR, Mr. Wilson, seems to have a case of big head. He took the breath away from the Democratic members of the House Appropriations Committee by asking for $9,500 with which to buy an automobile. With Bryan claiming he cannot live on $12,000 a year and the above exhibition of unabated gall, democratic simplicity and economy seem to have gone glimmering.

IN Ohio a women's debating club decided by a large majority that a cigarette smoker is a greater nuisance than a scolding woman. It was said of Tobe Grider's show that it was so d—d bad it was really good, but this cannot be said of either of the parties under debate. They are just as bad without any qualifications.

OUR friend, Mr. A. D. Miller, made a most creditable race for Representative, but Mr. White had the age and long party service on him and won and the result gives general satisfaction. In fact, the race was so made up that had either of the others won the county would have been well represented.

ONE of the Climax's best exchanges is the Elizabethtown News. Editor Harry A. Sommers never puts his pen to paper without saying something worth while. His editorials are timely and instructive, while his editorial comment is both entertaining and amusing.

THE remains of a Worcester, Mass., man were shipped by parcels post to Rockford, in the same State. They had, however, been reduced to ashes by cremation and only filled a small can. The advantages of the parcels post are daily increasing.

THE suffragettes have got their petition before the Senate for a constitutional amendment giving women the right to vote. They can now wait for favorable action and then the ratification by three-fourths of the States, which will take some time, if ever successful.

An article is going the rounds of the press entitled, "What to Eat in Summer." With the majority of us it is not what to eat, but how to get anything to eat, with everything as high as a cat's back.

THE Climax is glad to observe that William Jennings Price has been recommended by Senator James for minister to Panama. He is one of Boyle county's best Democrats and deserves the hand-some recognition.

OUR good friend, Louis Landram, of the Danville Messenger, welcomes a wanderer to the fold. It was only for a short time, however. We are here today and gone tomorrow.

OUR friend and fellow laborer, Shelton M. Stauffer, of the Stanford Interior Journal, was nominated for the Legislature from Lincoln by a very handsome majority.

Mrs. EDWIN GOULD, of New York, says that women who wear split skirts are not ladies. We are glad somebody said it. We didn't want to be ungallant ourselves.

City Council Proceedings.

There were probably more motions made and less business done at the council meeting last night than for a long time. Every member seemingly had something to offer but it seems that his "good thing" did not strike the other brother members with sufficient force to meet a second, and several of those that were supported did not carry by a majority vote.

Work was ordered on several streets of the city and this will be good news to all, for in many places it is badly needed.

Lancaster Avenue, West Main, Oak, Water and Third will soon receive the attention of Street Overseer Deeringer and his big machine.

Plans were submitted and accepted for the sewer from Eastern Normal and the sewer committee in conjunction with Mayor Rice were appointed to arrange terms and conditions. It was suggested that the sewer, after its completion, be the property of the city, but this was not decided upon, as in that case the city would go to the additional cost of sustaining it.

It was suggested that the sewer, after its completion, be the property of the city, but this was not decided upon, as in that case the city would go to the additional cost of sustaining it.

Reports of the city treasurer and chief of police were received and accepted. Collector Wilson reported $885.27 collected since July 1st.

The total tax list and polls for the present year was reported at $43,811.83. Of this $41,711.00 is against white and $2,971.72 against the colored voters.

This is about $1,600 more than last year. A number of bills were allowed and ordered paid and the meeting adjourned.

Death of John Donalson.

Died at his home nine miles from Richmond, on the Red House pike, Wednesday evening at eight o'clock. John Donalson aged about seventy-four years. The immediate cause of his death was pneumonia, though he had never been a stout man and had been in poor health for some years. Mr. Donalson was an excellent citizen, was a quiet man, always avoiding notoriety of any kind and in accord with his well known wishes his funeral and burial services were of the simplest kind. He was a Confederate veteran and the services were conducted by his comrades in arms and a brief prayer by Elder C. K. Marshall at the grave in Richmond Cemetery at eleven o'clock Friday morning, there being no services at the grave. He leaves a wife, who was Miss Ford, of this county, but no children.

The Mt. Vernon Fair.

Mr. J. W. Newson returned this morning from the Mt. Vernon fair, where he represented the Climax and had a good time. He said that over 3,000 people were present the first day and probably 5,000 were there yesterday, and that it was likely that the grounds would be taxed to accommodate the people who would be there today. "Stock on hand from many counties," he said, "and it is of high class. The management is showing its knowledge of conducting fairs and everybody is well satisfied and having a good time. Perfect order is being preserved," he added. Those having show stock are Miller & Beazley, Mt. Vernon, C. T. Sandige, Danville, W. P. Rogers, Somerset, Q. Parkes, of Richmond, H. C. Traynor, Richmond, W. M. Combs, Jesse Hill, Walker Moore, James Rogers, George Holmes, Crab Orchard, and many others, whose names he did not get.

A Delightful Concert.

The concert given by Mr. J. A. Parker, tenor, Mrs. J. A. Pantzer, pianist, and Miss Marian Noland, vocalist, at Normal Chapel Tuesday evening, for the benefit of Pattie A. Clay Infirmary, was one of the most delightful heard here for a long time. While the attendance was not what it should have been, a goodly sum was taken in.

The audience was a most responsive one and liberal applause was given each number. The participants proved themselves artists by rendering faultlessly the difficult numbers on the program. Much was expected of them and there was no room for disappointment, so meritorious was the work of both Mr. and Mrs. Parker and Miss Noland.

Rev. J. W. Jackson, of West Virginia, is assisting the regular pastor in a protracted meeting at the Wiseman's Methodist church. Good audiences are attending and much interest manifested.

William Witz and Miss Pearl and Lula Scrivener, of Station Camp, and Gentry Frazer, of Wiseman's, spent Sunday with Misses Grace and Maude Winn.

Quite a number from here attended quarterly meeting Sunday at Wiseman's. Presiding Elder Deering preached an excellent sermon.

Election's Over.

Jim Walker says "the election is over, now let's go to work. Tell the people I am at John R. Gibson's and want to sell them dry goods, dress goods, notions and everything in the dry goods line. I am ready to deliver the goods."

Opera House.

Monday night, "The Seal of Silence," a KAY-BEE, multiple reel, and two other good ones, showing four reels every night. Good music by the Opera House Orchestra.

Lightning Strikes Church.

Lightning struck the cupola of the Methodist church at Taylorsville, doing slight damage to the structure. The congregation of this church had already about completed plans for raising the building, so that the damage will scarcely be considered a loss.

Former Judge Hurt.

William Catron, a former County Judge of Palisack county and former postmaster of Somersett, was painfully injured in attempting to stop his cow from leaving the barn. He was thrown violently against the wall, where he was found in an unconscious condition. The ligaments were torn loose at the hip and he sustained other injuries. It is doubtful if he will be able to walk again.

Coming Into Their Own.

The Democrats are gradually coming into their own. Richmond now has a Democratic postmaster for the first time in fifteen years, and the Climax feels to congratulate both the people and Postmaster Stoddard. We are not growing over the change, for Mr. C. C. Wallace has served the people long and well. We are just elated over the fact that the Democrats are getting what they should have had all along.

Didn't Land.

Prof. J. D. Russell, one of Richmond's most distinguished colored men, failed to land the office he sought. He wanted to be Register of the Treasury but President Wilson saw fit to place a Choctaw Indian in that responsible position. Prof. Russell's many friends here are sorry that he did not get what he wanted. His work for the Democratic party made him fully deserving of the honor he asked.

Rifled Mail Sack.

A Winchester dispatch says: A rifled mail sack was found in Lexington & Eastern car and as yet no clew has been found to the thieves. The sack was sent from Washington in care of the postmaster at Trosper, Ky., for a new post office at Bradel, Ky. The sack had been cut open and its contents dumped to the floor. It is believed the sack was carried to the empty car and left there when it was found it contained nothing of practical use to the robbers.

MARRIED

Woolford Ross and Miss Georgia Webb, both of the Duluth section of the city, were made one at the bride's home on the 5th.

Jesse Murphy, aged 70, and twice married, was united in wedlock's holy bond today to Mrs. Katie Walton, twice widow, and 69. The groom is from the Big Hill section and his bonnie bride is a native of Berea, where the wedding occurred.

Barn Destroyed by Lightning.

The large barn of Bud Cornelison, on his farm four miles south of Richmond, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground, about 1 o'clock yesterday morning. It contained 200 bushels of seed wheat, 40 acres of loose clover hay, 100 bales of timothy hay, a stack of rye, two farm wagons and a lot of smaller farm tools and machinery. Loss, about $3,000, with $2,000 insurance. The barn was a large one and well built, one of the best in the county. Mr. Cornelison will rebuild at once and will probably erect two barns in the place of the one destroyed.

The Mt. Vernon Fair.

Mr. J. W. Newson returned this morning from the Mt. Vernon fair, where he represented the Climax and had a good time. He said that over 3,000 people were present the first day and probably 5,000 were there yesterday, and that it was likely that the grounds would be taxed to accommodate the people who would be there today. Wheeler Haggard, aged 21, of Winchester, was instantly killed at Lexington Monday morning when struck by a L. & N. passenger train while walking along the track. The accident happened near the Pepper distillery, on the old Frankfort pike. Thieves' Rich Haul.

The wealthy summer residents of Narragansett Pier are in a state of panic following a series of robberies during the past week. Mrs. John H. Hanan suffered the greatest loss. Thieves entered her home and took away jewels valued at $150,000. The conclusion by detectives is that in this case the robbery was committed by some person who had access to the Hanan home. Mrs. Charles C. Rumsey, daughter of the late E. H. Harriman, also suffered heavy losses. Robbers entered her home and got away with $75,000 worth of jewels. The residences of Mrs. Albert B. Lambert and Mrs. John R. Pell, both of whom are prominent socially, were also robbed, but no estimate of their losses has been given out.

Kitchen Stove His Savings Bank.

Barnett Gelford, a New York fruit dealer, read about the suspension of several banks recently and began to worry about $800 he had in a savings bank. He consulted friends, who advised him to withdraw the money and hide it in his house. The kitchen stove seemed to be a good hiding place, as there had been no fire in it for several weeks. So without telling his wife, Gelford withdrew his money and hid it in the stove. His wife had occasion to kindle a fire in the stove. Just as the fire was started Gelford entered the house.

"Mein Gott! Mein Gott!" he screamed. It did not take long for him to explain to his wife what she had done. Pails of water were poured on the fire, and after it was extinguished, only $100 of the $800 was recovered. The other $700 had been burned.

A State Wide Invitation

Monster Barbecue to Be Given by J. N. Camden at Versailles, Aug. 20, 1913

THIS meeting of farmers and their friends who are interested in the agricultural advancement of Kentucky is to be held that every one in the state may become acquainted and "rub elbows" with his neighbors and friends. It is to be a great farmers' convention, a place where, besides the "getting together," there will be speakers who really have something to say to the men who get their living from the soil.

In the past a barbecue, with its huge joints of smoking juicy meat and its bubbling steaming burgoo, meant political speechmaking and a warning of party strife. This immense barbecue is a definite effort to give the farmers of the state a chance to meet and get acquainted and to hear some of the strongest speakers in the whole country discuss vital farm questions. These speakers will be brought to the meeting from the north, south, east and west, and, as they are to be limited to thirty minutes each, they will be sure to send their messages home in quick, short sentences. The list of speakers is about com-

American Camels.

But few special students of extinct races know that the camel originated in America and used to roam its deserts, dispersing to Asia in recent times, geologically speaking, from the westward portion of this continent. A group of fossil American camels has been installed in the Peabody museum at Yale—part of the fruits of the Yale expedition to Eastern Wyoming and Nebraska in 1908. Prof. Richard Swann Lull, of the Peabody museum, who collected these remains, says in the Yale Alumni Weekly:

In strata from late eocene until the glacial period are found camels in various evolutionary series, ranging in size from that of a jack rabbit to that of the largest modern dromedary. The main line of descent led to perfection for grazing habits and finally to that marvelous adaptation to life in the arid wastes, the "ship of the desert." There were, however, at least two side lines, one of browsing camels, remains of which were also secured in 1908, culminating in a curious extinct creature whose length of neck and limb is so irresistably suggestive of the old world giraffe as to argue similarly of habits—that is, browsing on the growing tops of trees in semi-desert regions.—Pittsburgh Dispatch.
